

Robert Day
Cork's Premier Antiquarian Collector
Conference and Launch

Cork Historical and Archaeological Society
5 July 2014, Crawford Art Gallery

To coincide with the centenary of the death of Robert Day (1836-1914), antiquarian, Cork businessman and former President of CHAS, the Society is holding a one-day conference and launching a volume of essays about Day (the Society's Journal, vol. 119).

EVERYONE IS WELCOME TO ATTEND: ENTRY FEE €5.00

10.15am	Registration (€5.00)
10.30am	Opening – Prof. William O'Brien, President, CHAS
10.35am	Robert Day: Businessman and Antiquarian – Margaret Lantry
11.00am	The JCHAS Digitization Project – Margaret Lantry
11.15am	Day and the formation of his collection – Joan Rockley
11.45am	Treasure Trove and Robert Day – Aideen Ireland
12.15pm	Prehistoric Gold and Silver in the Day collection – Mary Cahill
12.45-2.00pm	Lunch break (lunch not provided)
2.00pm	The Book Plates of Robert Day – Julian Walton
2.30pm	Viking-Age Silver in the Day collection – John Sheehan
3.00pm	The Cabragh Bell and the Cloyne Staff – Cormac Bourke
3.30pm	Launch of the Robert Day Centenary Volume of JCHAS (when copies of the Journal will be available for collection by members, as well as for purchase).

The Crawford Art Gallery is located in Cork city centre, close to the Paul St or Carroll's Quay multi-storey car parks and about 10 mins walk from the Bus Station or 15-20 mins from Kent Railway Station. There is a restaurant at the Gallery: the Crawford Café (pre-booking is advisable 021-427 4415), as well as many other places to eat in the immediate vicinity.